DORIAN

BY THE SILVERSMITHS

OF WATSON PARK

The Story of . . . DORIAN

IN keeping with the Greek influence stimulated by the recent marriage of Princess Marina, the Silversmiths of Watson Park have created a new pattern in Sterling Silver, the design of which is inspired by the classic Doric motif, continually reasserting itself in beautiful and refreshing modern forms for all types of decoration. It is to harmonize with this modern trend in furnishings that the craftsmen of Watson Park produced fascinating Dorian. The design was selected and the pattern named by the students of five of America's smartest girls' colleges. More than 85% of the girls voted for this design, and the name was suggested by students from each of the colleges. They liked the pattern because of its simple and dignified beauty; because it is also a practical pattern, with its broken surface design so easy to take care of, and it will show scratches less than most plain patterns; because of its modest price; because it is one of the few patterns available with matching hollowware for every conceivable occasion and use; and last, because the design itself will never grow old.

The DORIAN pattern features many innovations and original ideas that add to the beauty and practical usefulness of the silver. In the flat silver, the knives have stainless blades in the new modern shapes, with rigid handles guaranteed never to loosen. The forks have been newly designed with tapering tines easy to clean. All pieces are beautifully balanced, proportioned and finished with the famous Watson finish. Each piece of Dorian hollowware has been individually designed to take its part in the table ensemble. Non-drip candlesticks have the patented Watson bobeche which prevents twisting or tipping. Coffee and tea pots are so constructed that they are extremely easy to keep clean.

These and many other features make Dorian the most complete and modern production of the present day silversmith's art.
